Diane Sandeman asked about the latest news on the defibrillator project. The Chairman and Ray Reed, Chairman of the Memorial Hall Committee, explained that the project has now been taken on by the Memorial Hall Committee. The defibrillator has been delivered. Prices have been obtained from 2 electricians and 1 has been chosen to connect the defibrillator. A list of people who expressed interest in checking the defibrillator on the Parish Council speed survey, has been passed to the Memorial Hall Committee in preparation for when the defibrillator is up and running.

Richard Haas asked whether there was any update on repairing potholes in the village, particularly those on Bushywarren Lane opposite the Veolia site and outside Widmoor Farm, where contractors worked to install fibre optic broadband. The Chairman again assured the meeting that the Parish Council is vigorously on the case: Hampshire Highways are aware of the problem of potholes but do not have the budget to complete the work at the moment. Peter Raine, Joint Parish Clerk, commented on the difficulties in communicating with Hampshire Highways because they are so under-resourced and have to prioritise work. It was suggested that it might help if everyone complains about the potholes.

Steven Gould asked for an update on the situation concerning Veolia’s planning application for an extension of time for use of the site and also a decrease in the length of time in which a restoration plan needs to be completed. The Chairman outlined the history of the use of the site, which was originally deemed unsuitable for permanent development. The Parish Council has written several letters to HCC expressing concern about the fact that planning process seems to be abused because conditions do not seem to be enforced and that extensions were granted in 2003 without following proper procedure. The Parish Council is waiting for a definite date on which the matter will be decided by HCC’s regulatory committee and the Council intends to send a representative to speak. Pat Pegg has invested much time and energy in researching the matter and raising objections to the application in order to protect wildlife. Dee Haas commented that there is a conflict of interest for HCC because Veolia is working on their behalf. Councillor Mark Ruffell confirmed that he has also written a strong letter of objection to the application.

Graham Simpson commented that the red telephone box is looking rather drab. Peter Raine confirmed that there is a price in the budget for re-painting it.
